Judith of the Plains

By Marie Manning.
Author of "Lord Allingham, Bankrupt"

Copyright, 1903, by Harner & Brothers

From the Indian, November 1904. This poem was but a solitary flake in a poetic fall of more or less magnitude. He rather conspicuously avoided a reference to her poetry when they met again. To him it was the very least of her gifts. Her hair, that had the tender yellow of ripening corn, was worthy of a cycle of sonnets, but pray leave the making of them to some one else!

When Hamilton knew her better he did not like to think that he had thought her eighteen at their first meeting. It impugned his judgment as a man of the world. Young ladies of eighteen could not possibly be contributors of several years' standing to the various magazines. An unusual situation was abhorrent to him. That he should marry an older woman, one, moreover, who had gained her public in a field to which he had not gained admission, was doubly distasteful by reason of his deference to the conventional. If she had flirted with him, his midsummer madness would have evaporated into thin air, but she kept him at arm's length, ostensibly took him seriously, and the boy proposed.

Her rejection of him was a matter of such consummate skill that Hamilton did not realize the keenness of his disappointment till he was swinging westward over the prairies. She had confided to him that her work claimed her and that she must renounce those sweet responsibilities that made the happiness of other women.

This had all happened seven years ago. In the meantime he had adjusted his disappointment to the new life of the west. To say that he had fallen in love with the situation would be to misrepresent him, but the role of lone-

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are Home of Swamp-Root, sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Judith, knowing what she did of this long drawn out romance, could have known likewise of her knight's chagrin, would she have pitied him?

Ignorant of the recent anticlimax and with a burden of many heavy thoughts, Judith was penetrating a world of unrelieved desolation. Beneath the scum of the noonday sun the desert lay stripped of every illusion. Vegetation had almost ceased. Nothing but sun scorched, dust choked sagebrush could spring from such sterility. The fruit of desolation, it gave back to desolation a quality more melancholy than utter barrenness.

The trail that she must take to Jim's camp in the mountain was known to but few honest men. Fugitives from justice—the grave, impersonal justice of the law or the swift justice of the plains—found there an asylum. And while they sometimes suffered in death by thirst or hunger a sentence more dreadful than the law of the land or the law of the rope would have given them, the desert, like the sea, seldom gave up her own. It was more than probable that no woman except Alida Rodney had ever taken that trail before and reasonably certain that no woman had ever taken it alone. Dolly, when she saw the beds of alkali grow more frequent and that the trails of the range cattle turned back, sniffed the lack of water in the air, slackened her pace and turned an interrogatory ear toward her mistress.

"It's all right, old girl," the gaunt, leathery hand patted the satin neck. "We're in for"—Judith flung her head up and confronted the infinite desolation yawning to the sky line—"God knows what."

Dolly broke into a light canter. This evidently was not an occasion for dawdling. There was a touch of business about the way the reins were held that made the mare settle down to work. But her flying hoofs made little apparent progress against the space and silence of the desert. Five, ten, fifteen miles and the curving shoulder of the mountain that she must cross still moved in the distance. Only the sun moved in that vast world of seemingly immutable forces.

There was no stoic Sioux in Judith now. The girl that breathed the crests of the foothills shrank in terror from the loneliness and the suggestion of foes lurking in ambush. The sun dropped behind the mountain, leaving a blood red pool in his wake, like fugitive Cain. Already night was sweeping over the earth from mountain shadows that flowed imperceptibly together like blackened pools.

"Ah, Dolly, my dear, a house is the place for women folk when the night comes—a house, the fire burning clear, the kettle singing, and"—Dolly whinnied an affirmative without waiting for the picture to be completed. The wilderness was being gradually swallowed by the shadows, as deliberately as a snake swallows its victim. They were nearing the mountains. The hot blasts of air from the desert blew more and more intermittently. The breeze swept keen from the hills, towering higher and higher, and Judith breathed deep of the piny fragrance and felt the tension of things loosen a little.

Whitening cattle bones gleamed from the darkness, tragic reminders of hard winters and scant pasturage, and Judith, with the Indian superstition that was in the marrow of her bones, read ghostly warnings in the empty eye sockets of the grinning skulls that stared up at her. She dared not think of the dangers that the looming darkness might conceal or of what she might find at her journey's end or—"Whoa, Dolly! Softly, girl. Is it my foolish, white blood nerves, or is some one following?"

The mare had been trained to respond to the slightest touch on her mouth and stopped instantly. Judith swayed slightly in the saddle with the heaving of the sweating horse. The blood beat at her temples, confusing what she actually heard with what her imagination pictured. She was half-way up a towering spur of the Wind river when she slid from the saddle, and, putting her ear to the ground, listened, Indian fashion. Above the throbbing stillness of the desert night, that came to her murmuringly, like the imprisoned roar of the sea from a shell, she could hear the regular beat of horse's hoofs following up the steep mountain grade.

She scrambled up with the desperate nimbleness of a hunted thing, but when she attempted to vault to the saddle her limbs failed, and she sank clinging to the pommel. Twice she tried and twice the trembling of her limbs held her captive, with the loss of each moment the heat of the hoofs on the trail below became more distinct. The very desperation of her plight kept her clinging to the pommel, incapable of thought, so that when she finally flung herself to the saddle she was surprised to find herself there. To the left the trail dropped sharply to a precipice, choked by the close crowding of many scrub pines. To the right the snow-clad spires of the Wind river kept their eternal vigil.

The trail had begun to widen. The horse behind her again stumbled, bounding a stone that rolled with crashes and echoes down to the precipice below. She took advantage of the widening of the trail to urge Dolly forward. Her impulse was to put spurs to the mare and run, to take chances with loose stones, a narrowing trail and the possibility of Dolly's stumbling and breaking a leg, but discretion prompted the showing of a brave front, the pleasantness of the road, with flight as the last resource of desperation.

Suddenly gaining what seemed to be a plateau, she wheeled and waited the coming of this possible friend or foe. The thudding of hoofs through the inferno of darkness stopped as the rider below considered the latest move of the horseman above. They were so near that Judith could hear the labored breathing of the sweating horse. The blackness of the night had become a tangible thing. The towering mountains were one piece with the zapping precipice, the trail, the scrub pines, the gauntlet on her hand. The horse below resumed its stumbling gait. Judith crowded Dolly close to the rocky wall. If the chance came of the wilderness should pass her by in the darkness—God speed him!

"What the deuce are you blocking the trail for?" sung out a voice from the darkness. At sound of it Judith's heart stopped beating. The voice was Peter Hamilton's.

IDENTIFICATION COMPLETE

Mother of Victim of Suitcase Murder Recognizes Rings.

Boston, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Catherine Geary of Cambridge has identified the rings found on a hand of the Winthrop suitcase victim as those of her daughter Susan. Miss Geary was a chorus girl of the "Shepherd King" company and was known on the stage as Ethel Durrell. The "Shepherd King" company is at present in Pittsburgh. The young woman disappeared from Boston Sept. 11. The company played in Boston the week of Sept. 4. On the Saturday night that the engagement closed Miss Geary was escorted to the subway station to take the train for her home by a member of the company and another of the chorus girls. Miss Geary was never heard of after she left the depot at 12 o'clock that night. When the company reached Lowell, Mass., their next stopping place, Miss Geary failed to appear. A few days later a letter was received by the management of the company purporting to have been sent by a physician and written in a feminine hand. It contained a doctor's certificate that Miss Geary was ill with stomach trouble, in Boston. It is thought the doctor's name was a forgery, because no doctor of the name on the paper can be found in Lynn or Boston.

Lover Held to Answer.

Pittsburg, Oct. 30.—After a long and searching examination at police headquarters, lasting until after 1 o'clock this morning, Morris Nathan, secretary to the manager of the "Shepherd King" company, was held on a charge of murdering his sweetheart, Miss Susan Geary, the victim of the Winthrop suitcase mystery which has been puzzling the Boston authorities for more than a month.

FACTS OF THE ARMY

Figures Relating to Our Nation's Military Strength.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Major General F. C. Ainsworth, the military secretary, in his second annual report, says the actual strength of the entire military establishment June 30 last was 3,800 officers and 57,433 enlisted men in the regular army, twenty-six officers and 550 enlisted men in the Porto Rican provisional regiment of infantry, and 108 officers and 5,039 enlisted men in the Philippine scouts, making a total of 3,934 officers and 63,022 enlisted men. The maximum strength of the regular army, not including the hospital corps, is now fixed by executive order at 60,475 enlisted men.

The losses in the regular army during the fiscal year were: Officers—Killed in action or died of wounds, disease, etc., 24; resigned or discharged, 20; dismissed, 13; deserted, 3; retired, 59; total, 119. Enlisted men—Killed in action or died of wounds, disease, etc., 377; discharged upon expiration of term of service, 22,254; discharged for disability, by sentence of court-martial and by order, 9,460; deserted, 6,532; retired, 189. Total, 38,813.

Organized Against Corruption.

New York, Oct. 30.—With the object of preventing corrupt practices at elections in this state, an association has been formed with headquarters in this city, and at the next session of the legislature a bill governing the matter will be presented and an organized effort made to obtain its passage.

Gruesome Find in Ruins.

Bloomfield, Ind., Oct. 30.—While searching through the ruins of the barn owned by John Bogard, destroyed by fire, the charred bones of a human being were found. It is the supposition that a tramp was sleeping in the barn and was cremated.

A REIGN OF TERROR

Russia's Capital Hourly
Awaiting Red Revolution.

IN A STATE OF PANIC

The Situation Has Become So Intense That the Government Is Now Practically Powerless.

Revolutionists Apparently Await But the Signal to Carry All Before Them.

Odessa, Oct. 30.—There have been two serious conflicts here between the troops and a mob in which twenty-seven persons were killed and ninety wounded.

Moscow, Oct. 30.—Nineteen wounded men have been brought to the university hospital as the result of an encounter between students and royalists. The city is entirely isolated. Prices of food are mounting higher and higher.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—The employees of the chief telegraph office here have declared a three days' strike. All incoming service is stopped.

Tiflis, Oct. 30.—Complete disorder reigns here. There is rifle firing against the patrols in many quarters of the city. The strike is complete on all railroads in the Caucasus. All the stores and offices are closed. Even the employees of the state institutions and the headquarters of the viceroyalty have struck.

Nizhnynogorod, Oct. 30.—This city is disturbed over rumors that the "Black Hundred," a band of roughs, is about to commence a massacre of all well-to-do persons.

Warsaw, Oct. 30.—The governor has forbidden the publication of even official news concerning the riots in Russia. The authorities acknowledge the situation to be extremely serious. The theaters are closed and no newspapers are being published.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—While Sunday passed quietly without bloodshed in the Russian capital, and while the city is outwardly calm, the developments all indicate that a crisis is imminent. Although the streets are filled with troops and reinforcements are now pouring in from Finland, the government seems utterly powerless to cope with the situation, and many calm observers seem seriously to believe that the present regime is tottering to its fall.

Differences have developed between Count Witte and General Trepoft, and while the precious moments pass the emperor, surrounded by the imperial family, remains shut up at Peterhof, seemingly still hesitating as to what course to pursue.

Grave doubts are expressed as to whether even the imperial guard can now be relied upon. Discontent is rife. Sunday the fourteenth equipage of sailors of the guard, who have been shut up like prisoners in barracks on the Moskva canal, demolished the windows and furniture and a detachment consisting of four officers of the guard went to the lawyers' assembly and told the barristers that many officers and a large part of the troops were disgusted with the government and ready to enlist in the movement for freedom. They asked for aid toward effecting organization and said they had discussed among themselves the question of resigning, but decided to show that people in uniform could help to achieve liberty. Even though the Cossack patrols keep idlers moving in the streets, they seem careful not to use their whips and simply drive the crowds along before their advancing horses.

A meeting of the municipal council was held last evening at which a deputation of thirty members of the strikers' committee appeared. In an impassioned speech the leader of the deputation presented the following demands of the workmen and affiliated organizations:

First—A constitution and political liberty.

Second—That the city furnish food to the workmen.

Third—That the city refuse further supplies to the troops and the police.

Fourth—That the troops be removed from the waterworks or otherwise the strikers would cut the water supply.

Fifth—The immunity of the deputation from arrest.

The council granted this last demand and promised to reply to the other demands today. The council sent requests to both General Trepoft and Minister of the Interior Boulgoin not to arrest the members of the deputation, but the police nevertheless took them into custody. Upon urgent representations, General Trepoft, an hour later, released them.

The people are extremely nervous and bordering on panic, and are easy victims of every sensational rumor. Among countless baseless reports which have received credence are, that the emperor has embarked on a vessel and fled to Denmark; that General Trepoft has been killed by a bomb and that Vice Admiral Birleff has been assassinated by mutineers in the Black sea.

With a strike in the government postoffice today, communication with the interior practically ceased. Government troops were placed in the telegraph office, but only a few lines are working. Many lines, including the land lines to the continent and to Li-bau, where they connect with the cable, have been cut. The cable by way of Nystad and Sweden is still open. This is now the only thread connecting Russia with the outer world. Admiral Durnovo, superintendent of posts and telegraphs, told the representatives of the European powers that he could not tell how long cable communication with the continent would last.

The foreign embassies have discussed the public situation, but have as yet taken no steps regarding the safety of foreign residents. As a precaution the state department at Washington has been requested to confer authority for the charter of a vessel and to hoist on it the American flag as a refuge for Americans.

The negotiations for a new loan were formally adjourned today, as neither the government nor the bankers are prepared to clear the negotiations while the present situation continues. The university, the polytechnic institute and all educational institutions were closed today so as to prevent further meetings being held in them. Such news as comes from the interior shows no improvement in the situation. The government everywhere seems powerless to break the political strike.

The situation cannot well be exaggerated. With the present indecision of the emperor the government has neither a head nor a policy to meet the crisis, and things seem to be drifting toward anarchy. The revolutionists openly declare that the government has ceased to exist and that nothing remains to his majesty except to abdicate. With a firm hand at the helm and a rational policy, however, all might quickly be changed.

Word by Way of London.

London, Oct. 30.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says: "I am informed that the emperor has just accepted the Liberal program, appointed Count Witte premier and given legislative powers to the representative assembly, allowing representatives from all sections of the population to be elected to it and abolishing martial law throughout the empire. The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at St. Petersburg sends the following: 'The court is in revolt against the emperor, who is vacillating between the counsels of his ministers to grant a constitution with Count Witte as premier, and the advice of the reactionaries to proclaim a dictatorship under General Count Alexei Ignatieff, a member of the council of the empire.'

Father Gapon to the Fore.

Stockholm, Oct. 30.—It is reported that the Russian priest, Father Gapon, who was active in the troubles at St. Petersburg in January of this year, has left Christiania for the continent.

BOYS HELD BLAMELESS

Death Overtakes Lad Awaiting Initiation Into College "Frat."

Gambier, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Stewart L. Pierson, a freshman at Kenyon college, was killed by a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus train Saturday night while awaiting initiation into Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. There was no eye-witness to the accident so far as known.

According to the statement of members of the fraternity, Pierson had been told to station himself at the foot of an abutment of the railroad bridge and await the coming of a committee to take him to the fraternity house for the initiation. When they went to the spot an hour later Pierson was not there. A hurried investigation resulted in the finding of the student's mangled body on the railroad track on the bridge. How he came to be on the bridge the students are at a loss to understand.

Rumors were about that Pierson had been tied to the railroad track by the initiators, but the fraternity men emphatically denied that such a thing was done or even contemplated.

Young Pierson was a son of L. N. Pierson, business man of College Hill, Cincinnati. Mr. Pierson, sr., is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and had come here to attend the initiation of his son. Mr. Pierson notified the members of the fraternity that he did not attach any blame to them.

President Is All Right.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The navy-yard wireless station last night picked up a wireless message being sent from the cruiser West Virginia (on which the president is traveling) to the Cape Hatteras station. The West Virginia was off Savannah, Ga. The squadron of which the West Virginia is a part made a record-breaking trip from Jupiter. The president is well and greatly enjoying the cruise.

Couldn't Make the Grade.

Highland Falls, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Carlos Alfonso Zelaya of Nicaragua, who was admitted to the military academy as a cadet last June by special act of congress, has been granted a leave of absence pending his withdrawal from the academy. It was officially announced that Zelaya has withdrawn from the military academy on account of insufficient progress in his studies.

Lebanon, Ind., Oct. 30.—Fred Hause of Indianapolis, who was recently arrested for stealing a horse and buggy, has been sentenced to the state reformatory for an indeterminate sentence of from two to fourteen years. Hause, although but nineteen years old, attributed his downfall to cigarettes and whisky.

Serious Car Shortage.

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—Coal operators of the Split district of West Virginia met here and discussed the car shortage, which they say is the worst in twenty years, with representatives of the railroads. The traffic men promised to do all they could to relieve the situation.

Enthusiastic Meeting.

Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 30.—With a large attendance of delegates and amid great enthusiasm, the fourteenth annual state conference of the state board of charities and correction opened in this city Saturday evening for a three days' session.

WINTER ECZEMA SKIN HARD AND DRY

Some skin diseases are active in Summer, while others wait until cold weather to manifest themselves. Winter Eczema sleeps in the system through the long hot months, and gives no sign of its presence; but at the coming of Winter the trouble asserts itself and it becomes one of the most painful and distressing of all skin diseases. The blood is filled with poisonous acids which seem to be excited by the cold; and as these are thrown off through the pores and glands, the skin cracks and bleeds, the flesh becomes hot and feverish and the itching intense. The natural oils which keep the skin soft and pliant are dried up by the cold, bleak winds, causing it to become hard and dry, giving it that shiny, leathery appearance, characteristic of the disease. The head, face, hands and feet are the usual points of attack, though other parts of the body may be affected. So painful and distressing is the trouble that the sufferer constantly "doctors" and treats it trying to get relief. Soothing washes, medicated ointments and salves are used, but aside from giving temporary relief they do no good. The cause is poisonous acids in the blood, and these must be removed before a cure can be effected. The only cure for Winter Eczema is S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers. It cleanses the entire blood supply of the acrid poisons and sends a fresh, healthy stream to the diseased skin, healing and softening it and curing the painful, itching eruptions. S. S. S. enters the blood and purifies it of all waste and foreign matter, and cures Winter Eczema—or Tetter as it is sometimes called—safely as well as surely; besides it does not contain any harmful mineral to derange or damage any part of the system. ELECTION day under the management of the new democracy will long be remembered. There will be no clouds of dust from the whirling vehicles of the noted democratic hustlers as they speed to the polls with their old-time friends. But the sidewalks will be more or less obstructed by bystanders watching these once famous vote getters amuse themselves in an innocent game of marbles just for fun, not for "keeps".

It was a brilliant idea of the theoretical "smart" politician to propose a battle with squirt guns and rose water, after his party candidates had spent their money in the purchase of real guns and powder and lead. They have arranged for the return of their absentee voters and for getting out a full vote, and as many of the opposition as could be reached, in support of their ticket, and then propose to republicans that henceforward none of these things be done. It will require a better exhibition of virtue than this to entitle our democratic brethren to be enrolled as probationers in the moral vineyard.

Hurt in B. & O. Yard.

A man named Jarvis was found in the B. & O. yards Saturday night suffering from a gash cut on his head and some other bruises. He is supposed to have been crossing the yards and was struck by No. 3. His injuries are not regarded as dangerous. He was out on the streets Sunday.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Old Soldier Run Down by a S. I. Train.

E. C. Hamilton, a well known civil war veteran, was run down and instantly killed a half mile west of this city by passenger train No. 4 on the Southern Indiana Sunday. The accident occurred about 12 o'clock noon. The only witnesses to the accident so far as learned were the engineer and fireman.

The engineer, Ben Spellman, testified before Coroner Washburn that as the train went west from the junction he saw a man walking west along the north side of the track. He was walking in a path along the end of the ties. As the train approached him the bell was ringing constantly but no other signal was given. When about 200 feet from the man, who was E. C. Hamilton, he partially turned around, the engineer testified, and as he turned either sat down or fell down on the end of the ties. Spellman says he then reversed his engine and put on the emergency brakes but could not bring the train to a standstill before striking Mr. Hamilton as the train was running about 35 miles an hour. The old soldier was struck on the side of the head by the end of the pilot beam and buried several feet from the track. He was killed instantly. The body was taken on the train back to the junction and Ben Hamilton, the unfortunate man's son, was summoned. Undertaker Voss was then called and took charge of the body.

Mr. Hamilton lived in the Homestead addition and cultivated a truck garden west of the city and was doubtless on his way there when he was run down by the train.

Elias C. Hamilton was born in Clinton county, Ohio, over 65 years ago. He was a brave soldier in the civil war and had spent a part of the past two years at the soldiers home at Dayton. His home had been here several years. He leaves a wife and four grown sons. One daughter died some years ago.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon from the residence at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. Harley Jackson. Burial at Riverview.

Willard Miller visited friends at Columbus yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson and family returned to their home today at Pittsburg, Pa. after a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Ed Crane, of this city.

Winners Here.

Major N. G. Winner and wife, who attracted so much attention and drew such large crowds at the Gold Mine last year arrived from Martinsville Sunday afternoon and will be seen at the same store this week until Saturday night. They are the same pleasant entertainers as before and are ready and willing to tell you all about their interesting selves at any time. Mr. Winner is thirty-six years old, is thirty-six inches tall and weighs forty-two pounds. Mrs. Winner is twenty-six years old, is thirty-five inches tall and weighs forty pounds. They are the smallest married couple in the world.

At 10:30 and again at 2:30 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday they will give a musical entertainment at the store. Mrs. Winner will play on the piano and both Mr. and Mrs. Winner will sing. Their entertainment will be a good one you will want to hear.

Venturesome Miners Killed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 30.—Five minor officials of the Pittsburgh & Westmoreland Coal company gave up their lives Sunday when they entered the Hazel Kirk mine No. 1, east of this city, to ascertain if a portion of the mine was still burning, as a result of an explosion two weeks ago. As the five men approached the portion of the mine which is burning they became aware that the water had not extinguished the blaze. They decided to tear down the bulkhead erected to confine the fire to one entry of the mine. Just as the covering was removed there was a terrific explosion and the five men were blown different ways, all being instantly killed. The mine is on fire and those in charge say the damage will reach thousands of dollars and the mine may be doomed.

WHY DOCTORS FAIL

AND MRS. PINKHAM SUCCEEDS

Plain Reasons Are Here Given to Explain Why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures When Doctors Are Powerless

A woman is sick; some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system. She goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.

She holds something back, loses her head, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she ought to have told, and thus completely mystifies the doctor. Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctors fail to cure the disease? Still we cannot blame the woman, for it is very embarrassing to detail some of the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.

It was for this reason that years ago Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., determined to step in and help her sex. Having had considerable experience in treating female ills with her Vegetable Compound, she encouraged the women of America to write to her for advice in regard to their complaints, and being a woman, it was easy for her ailing sisters to pour into her ears every detail of their suffering.

In this way she was able to do for them what the physicians were unable to do, simply because she had the proper information to work upon, and from the little group of women who sought her advice years ago, a great army of her fellow-beings are to-day constantly applying for advice and relief, and the fact that many thousands of them have been cured by following the advice of Mrs. Pinkham during the last year is indicative of the grand results which are produced by her unequalled experience and training.

No physician in the world has had such a training, or has such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills, from the simplest local irritation to the most complicated womb diseases.

This, therefore, is the reason why Mrs. Pinkham, in her laboratory at Lynn, Mass., is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own suffering who will not take the trouble to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice.

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Seymour people testify to this.

Mrs. Jane Combs, of Cincinnati Ave. says: "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from C. W. Milhous' drug store. Two members of my family suffered greatly from their back and kidneys and I insisted on their taking a course of the treatment. They did so and were soon benefited. I also used the remedy myself with good results. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys, remove backache and banish annoyances arising from difficulty with the kidney secretions. Farmers Insurance Co.

The Jackson County Farmers Insurance company held a meeting at Brownstown Saturday and the reports submitted by the officers were very satisfactory. The company has grown steadily since its organization and is in a most prosperous condition. The total amount of insurance in force is $173,327.33. During the fiscal year ending June 30 the new business written amounted to $161,225. The losses for the year was $853.50. During the three years since the company was organized the assessments have amounted to only 15 cents on the one hundred dollars. This is certainly an excellent showing.

M'DONALD-KYSAR.

Wedding Announcement That Comes As a Surprise.

The following account of the marriage of two former Seymour people was published in the Indianapolis Sunday Star:

"Having been separated for years Ex-State Senator William N. McDonald and Miss Susie C. Kysar met Saturday in Indianapolis and were quietly married without the knowledge of even their most intimate friends. The Gulf of time, which has intervened since the days when they parted more than fifteen years ago in Seymour, Ind., was quickly spanned and sealed by the marriage ceremony pronounced by the Rev. W. M. Zaring of Grace M. E. Church.

In 1884 Mr. McDonald was State Senator from Jackson and Lawrence counties and had, as he now has, a wide acquaintance among politicians in the State. For some time he has lived in Tennessee where he is engaged in a manufacturing business. His bride lived in Seymour and, although considerably younger, received marked attention from Mr. McDonald. She moved to Indianapolis after he had gone to Tennessee and, it is said but few words have been exchanged between them for years.

"Relatives and friends in this city were greatly surprised when they learned last night of the wedding, but rallied with their hearty congratulations. Ex-Senator McDonald is 65 years of age.

AUTO HORN.

Used to Call Chickens to Their Meals.

Some time ago a newspaper reporter with a vivid imagination and a keen appreciation of a good story supplied some copy to an Indianapolis paper. The scene of his story was laid in Jackson County. He told of an automobile passing through the county and while speeding along past a farm house the driver lost the signal horn from the automobile. The farmer picked it up and in time was using it to call his chickens together for their feed. This story has been going the rounds of the press modified from time to time to suit local conditions. The latest version comes from Freehold, New Jersey, and is as follows:

"Not long ago a farmer of Glendola near here, found an automobile horn, dropped from some machine near his property. He carried it home and put it to a practical use. He taught the chickens to run after him when the horn 'honked' at meal time, instead of calling 'Chick! chick! chick!' in the old fashioned way. The fowls took to the innovation, and whenever they heard the 'honk' would run from all directions to get their corn.

Dr. Ackerman of Asbury Park went scorching by the farm in his automobile, tooting his horn. The chickens on the farm with one accord set out after the auto, spurred on by the amillar 'honk! honk!'

On the fowls ran, and kept on running until seventeen hens and six roosters ran themselves to death on the highway. The rest, finding they were being fooled, stopped for breath and then wandered back home. The farmer found them wheezing and scratching their heads by the kitchen door, and has discovered that they will no longer respond to the 'auto' horn."

Hunters are Numerous.

State Fish and Game Commissioner Z. T. Sweeney says his Deputies have obtained fifty convictions in the State for violations of the game law within the last month, and during the year there have been more than four hundred convictions for violation of the game laws. Mr. Sweeney says there always is a rush of applications for hunter's licenses soon after there is a conviction in any neighborhood. The Commissioner's mail is averaging about two hundred letters a day from people who wish to be in possession of the required license by the time the hunting season opens, November 10, and it looks like there would be more licenses issued this year than ever before.

Employ Detectives.

The State Board of Health will employ special detectives to hunt down violators of the pure food law. The board has a suspicion that some of the sausage made in the State is not always manufactured from hogs freshly killed and a stronger suspicion exists that pork is not always used. It is probable that these detectives will visit slaughter houses over the state and now and then buy a sample of sausage sold.

The hottest part of the fire being always against the fire pot as illustrated above, the greater part of the heat is radiated downward, heating the floor much more than a baseburner does. INFLUENTIAL BACKING

Bookwalter Has the Earnest Support of His Party in Indianapolis.
Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—Arrangements were completed today for a speech by Senator A. J. Beveridge at Tomlinson hall, Wednesday night in behalf of Charles A. Bookwalter, the Republican mayoralty candidate. It will probably be the largest meeting of the campaign, owing to the prominence and popularity of Senator Beveridge as a speaker. Captain Layman of Irvington will be temporary chairman and Albert Baker, permanent chairman. Bookwalter will also make a brief address. This will be the only political speech that Senator Beveridge will make this year. Other prominent men who will speak here this week on behalf of Bookwalter are Addison C. Harris, the former minister to Austria, and General Coburn, the sage of the Indianapolis bar, and one of the oldest Republicans in the state.

The experiments to be tried in Greencastle, Martinsville, Rushville, Columbus, Crawfordsville, Tipton and other places, of conducting municipal elections Nov. 7 without spending money to buy votes, will be watched with much interest by politicians and reformers. The army of venal voters has become so large in Indiana that Governor Durbin, in his final message to the legislature last winter, called attention to the necessity for reform. He said there were thousands of floaters who would not vote unless they received pay. He advocated a radical change in the election laws, and an amendment was enacted providing for the punishment of the buyer of votes as well as the seller. Under the law existing for the last ten years only the men who sold their votes could be punished, and the number of floaters became a horde. Party leaders admit that the old law did as much as any one thing to corrupt politics in Indiana, as votes were bought with impunity. Many of them are doubtful, however, whether or not there will be any improvement under the new law, as there will be an incentive now for the buyers as well as the seller to make the bargain more secretive. Many are convinced that the only practical solution of the evil is being taken in the cities where agreements are being made not to spend any more money during the campaign than is absolutely necessary for legitimate expenses, and none at all on election day to buy votes.

The funeral of the late Sidney W. Cantwell of Hartford City, speaker of the last Indiana house of representatives, who died Saturday after a lingering siege of tuberculosis of the kidneys and lungs, was held this afternoon at his home. Mr. Cantwell knew he was going to die and he selected the hymns he wanted sung. He chose a text that was given at the funeral of his father. Mr. Cantwell was popular, not only with the Republican members of the last legislature, but the Democrats, and his death is widely mourned throughout the state.

Interest in the Republican state chairmanship contest has been overshadowed by the municipal campaigns, and it is not likely there will be much doing between the rival factions until the middle of November.

Climatic Cures

The influence of climatic condition in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. How Is Your Heart?

Is your pulse weak, too slow, too fast, or does it skip a beat? Do you have shortness of breath, weak or hungry spells, fainting, smothering or choking spells, palpitation, fluttering, pains around the heart, in side and shoulder, or hurt when lying on left side? If you have any of these symptoms your heart is weak or diseased, and cannot get better without assistance. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens weak hearts, and rarely ever fails to cure heart disease. Try it, and see how quickly you will find relief.

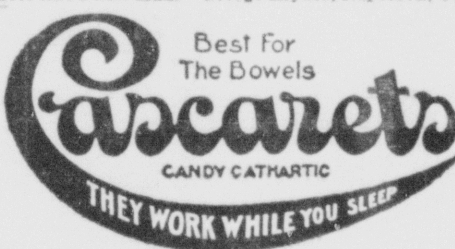

"About January 1st, 1902, I took down with weakness and drowsy, and gradually grew worse. I was told by my family physician that my case was hopeless. My neighbors and family had given me up to die. My limbs and body were swollen to one-third larger than normal size, and water had collected around my heart. For at least three months I had to sit propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I sent for five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and by the time I had taken them all I was entirely cured. I feel better than I have for twenty years, and I am able to do any kind of work on my farm. My attending physician told me that if it hadn't been for Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I would now be in my grave."

A BIG CITY'S LOSS

Philadelphia Looted of Millions Through Extravagant Management.

A SIGNIFICANT REPORT

Engineers Who Investigated the Water Works Scandal Show a Shocking State of Things.

How a Great Municipality Was Practically at Mercy of Grasping Contractors.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—The report of the board of investigating engineers appointed last July by Mayor Weaver to examine the filtration system of the city and the northeast and southern boulevards now under construction, has been made public. It is signed by Major Cassius E. Gillette of the United States engineer corps, who investigated the Savannah harbor frauds, and John Donald MacLennan of Washington, D. C. The report shows that up to date the city has lost through excessive costs, collusive bids, illegal advertising and in other ways the sum of $6,330,000. The contractors who received most of the money were the McNichol firm and John A. Kelley, and Vane Bros. The members of the McNichol firm are Israel W. Durham, leader of the local Republican organization; State Senator J. P. McNichol, also a city leader, and the latter's brother Daniel.

The Vane firm is made up of State Senator George A. Vane and Edwin H. Vane. Their brother, William S. Vane, is recorder of deeds, an elective office. The officials held responsible by the report for some of the conditions in connection with the filtration system are William C. Haddock, who was director of public works under Mayor Ashbridge; Peter E. Cortello, director of public works under Mayor Weaver until last May, when the mayor dismissed him, and John W. Hill, former chief of the bureau of filtration, who is awaiting trial on charges of fraud and falsification of records in connection with the construction of the filtration system.

The report says in introduction: "Omitting from construction all small contracts—say under $30,000—we find for the filtration work and the two boulevards as constructed to date, the city has paid or pledged $18,761,541. First class work under the specifications should not have cost over $12,430,000, which includes an allowance of 20 per cent or $2,074,208 for legitimate contractors' profits. The difference is $6,330,000. In other words, $18,760,000 in round numbers has been paid for work costing the contractors $12,430,000."

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Admiral Togo Begs for Repose of Souls of War's Victims.

Tokio, Oct. 30.—The great shinto rites in memory of the naval officers and men who were killed during the war were held Sunday at Aoyama cemetery. Besides the admirals, officers and sailors, hundreds of civil dignitaries were present. Admiral Togo addressed the departed spirits, eulogizing their noble deeds in battle and their gallant co-operation which resulted in the sacrifice of their lives. He humbly asked repose for the spirits whose exemplary deeds in life had contributed to the victory over a powerful enemy. While reading his address Admiral Togo was seen to be stirred with strong emotion, which was in contrast with his calm demeanor while on the bridge of the Mikasa during the hottest battles. The ceremony was most impressive and calculated to leave a lasting impression on those who witnessed it. Thousands of sailors marched to the accompanying strains of music to the cemetery and afterward to the naval club.

It Was Loaded.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30.—Albert Nesch, seventeen years old, shot and killed Joseph Fifer Clark. The boys had been playing cards for weeks. They were playing cards and Nesch says that they had agreed that the first one caught cheating should be shot at with a revolver supposed to be unloaded. Clark snatched the revolver at Nesch once. It is said, and later Nesch aimed the revolver at Clark and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Clark in the middle of the forehead.

Had Committed No Crime.

New York, Oct. 30.—Commissioner Ridgway has discharged from custody Frederick Poetham and Moses Haas, who were charged with having conspired with Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., to defraud the government by securing advance information of the government's cotton report. Commissioner Ridgway held that neither of the men had committed a crime within the meaning of the statutes.

They Spared the Child.

Toledo, Spain, Oct. 30.—Madame Du Gast, the well-known automobile racer, and two journalists who accompanied her in an automobile race here, were severely injured by the overturning of the car owing to an effort to avoid killing a child who was crossing the course.

Distinctively Different, In Every Way the Best

The Weekly Globe-Democrat, of St. Louis, covers a field peculiarly and exclusively its own.

It is issued twice every week. A big Semi-Weekly paper. Eight to ten large pages every Tuesday and Friday. One Dollar a year.

Nothing particularly different, you say, about that—there are other Twice-a-Week papers.

Yes, but the similarity ends there. No other paper is like the Globe-Democrat in any other respect. No other paper equals the Globe-Democrat in any respect.

An entirely unique feature of the Globe-Democrat, a feature which is highly praised by its readers, is its systematic method of preserving and presenting the Continuity of News.

The two papers each week, Tuesday and Friday, are carefully prepared with the view of giving the complete news of all the world for that week.

They are so combined in the make up as to form continued and connected stories of the various important events, showing the developments from day to day and the final results.

Other weekly and twice-a-week papers, as a rule, print only a few telegrams of the day of issue.

The 'Twice-a-Week' Globe-Democrat gives the telegrams of every day in the week more comprehensively than the average Daily, and of more value to the average reader.

Moreover, the 'Twice-a-Week' Globe-Democrat is not simply an echo of the Daily edition.

It is a separate and distinct publication, especially prepared to supply the requirements of people who want all the news of all the earth—and something more.

It presents the World's daily history in concise but complete form. It is of equal interest in all parts of the United States. It is invaluable alike to men and women, young and old.

It thoroughly provides for every member of the family. In high-grade literature it particularly excels. Its market reports are correct and complete in every detail.

Its departments devoted to 'The Home,' 'The Farm and Garden,' 'The Family Circle,' 'The Sunday School,' 'Science and Industry,' are each and all The Best of their kind and either one is more than worth the subscription price of the paper.

In politics it is strictly Republican, but it is above all a newspaper, and tells the truth without fear or favor. It has no equal or rival as a great National news and home journal.

Remember the price, only One Dollar per year—104 papers—less than one cent a copy. Postage prepaid.

You will make no mistake if you send $1.00 today for a year's subscription. Or you can get your own paper One Year Without Cost by inducing two of your neighbors to subscribe and sending their names with $2.00.

FREE SAMPLE COPIES containing order blanks and full particulars, will be cheerfully furnished upon receipt of postal card request Address Globe Printing Company, publishers,
